Revised testing schedule

In an effort to reduce the lengthy waiting time between enlisted promotion testing and promotion release dates, and to better meet what the overwhelming majority of the professional enlisted force wants, Headquarters Air Force Personnel Center has fine tuned the administration of promotion tests.

Specifically, testing for chief master sergeant cycle will take place during the first four days after Labor Day. The dates are Sept. 4-7. Testing for senior master sergeant will permanently move from November to January. The new senior master sergeant testing window of Jan. 10-24 is effective with the senior master sergeant cycle testing in 2002.

The master sergeant, and technical sergeant testing window will slip 15 days from Feb. 1 to March 2, 2002, to the new testing window of Feb. 15 to March 31, 2002, effective with master and technical sergeants cycles testing in 2002.

Finally, testing for staff sergeants will slip an entire month. Senior airmen will now test for staff during May. This is effective with staff sergeants promotion cycle 02E5, testing in 2002.
